

Step 1:

Doodle the pattern for the book cover.

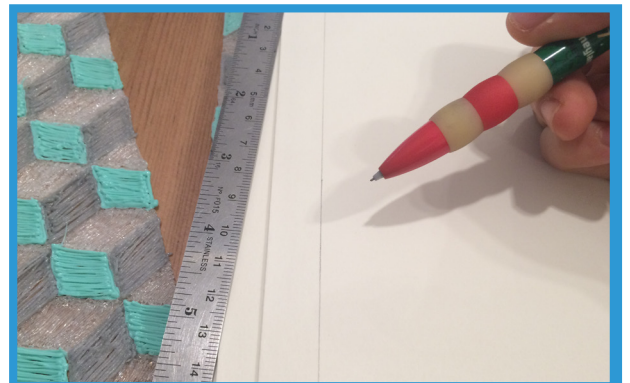

Step 2:

Prepare the pages by folding A4 papers into half.

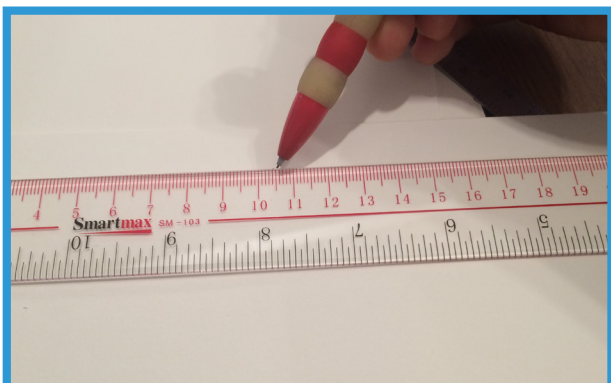

Step 3:

Make sure the folds are complete by using a blunt tool.

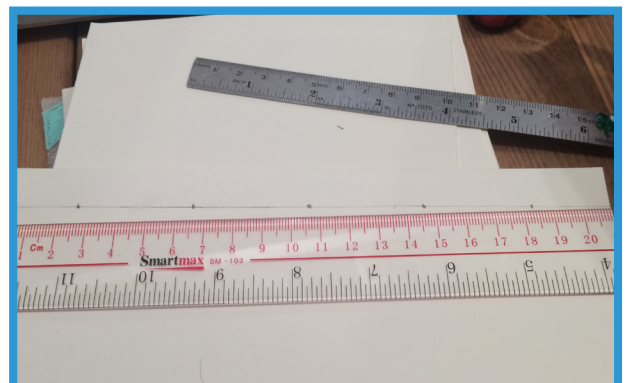

Step 4:

Measure 1.5cm from the edge and draw a line.

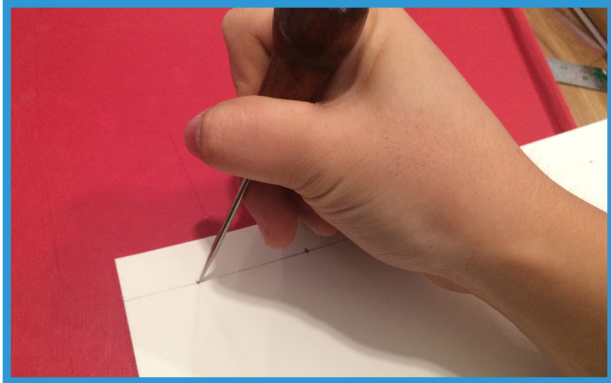

Step 5:

Mark the middle of the page, which is at 10.4cm.

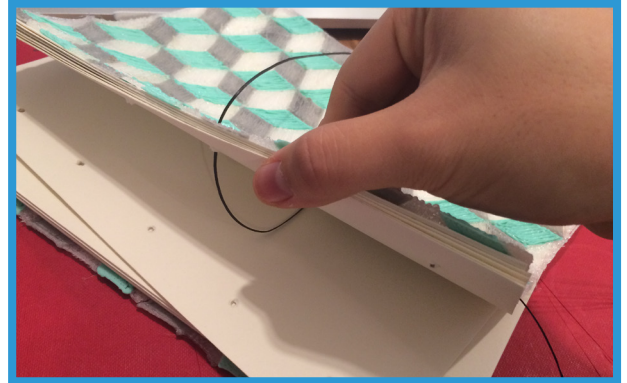

Step 6:

From the midpoint, mark 4 dots 4cm apart.

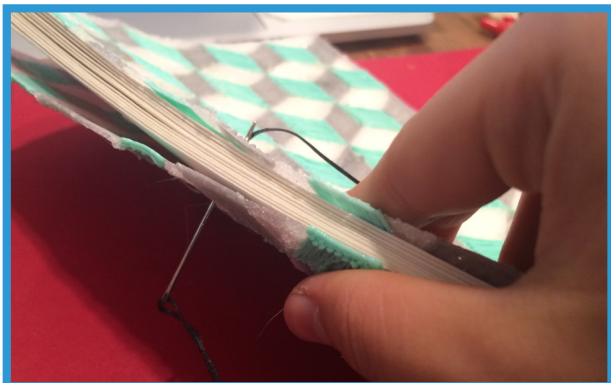

Step 7:

Using an awl, punch holes through the dots of all the pages.

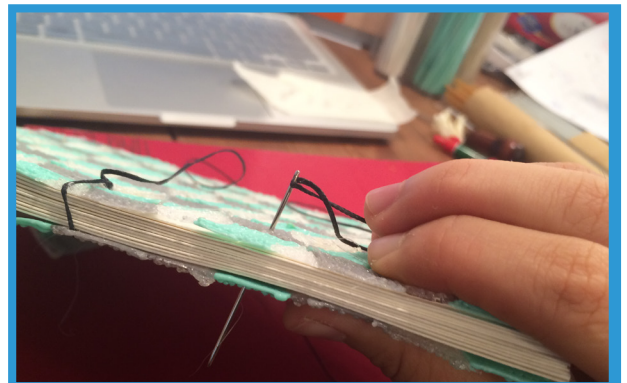

Step 8:

Prepare at least 120cm of wax thread and start the binding by sewing from the middle of the pages out to the front cover.

Step 9:

From bottom up, sew through the same hole (middle).

Step 10:

Pulling tightly, sew through the next hole twice .

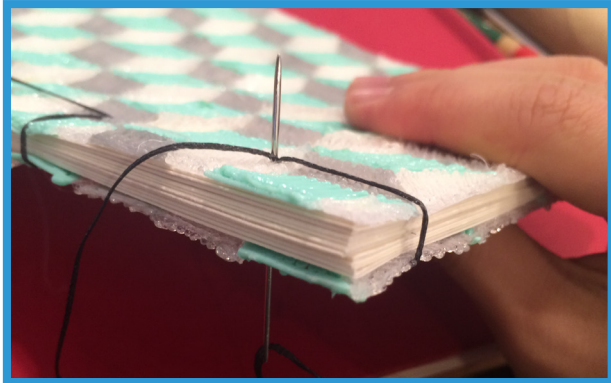

Step 11:

Sew through the next hole from bottom up.

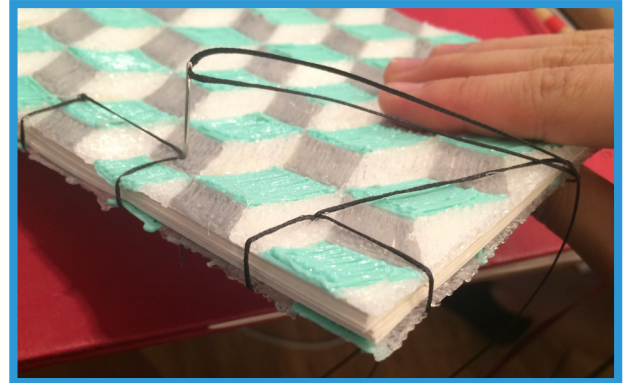

Step 12:

Go through the same hole again, but this time wrap the thread around the bottom of the page.

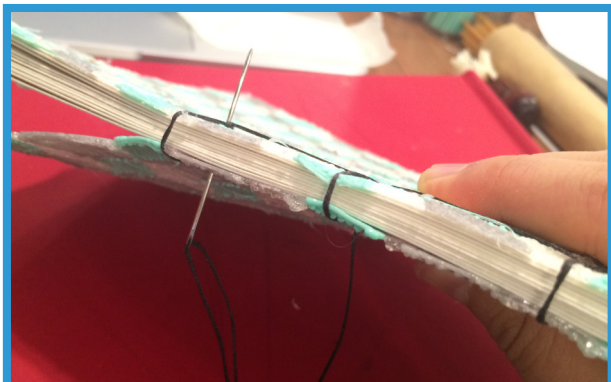

Step 13:

Go through the same hole the third time, but now wrap the thread around the spine of the book.

Step 14:

Sew through the hole above.

Step 15:

Sew up the next hole, bottom up.

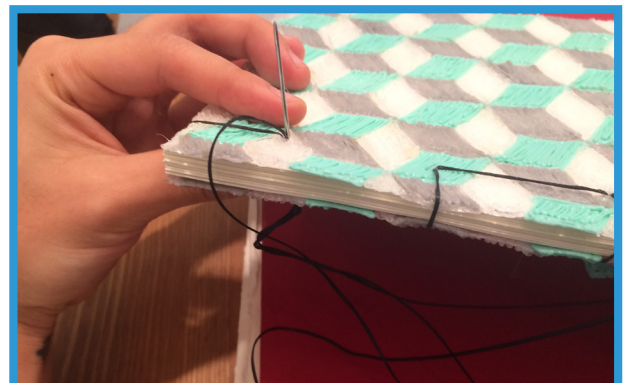

Step 16:

Go through the hole again wrapping the thread on the spine.

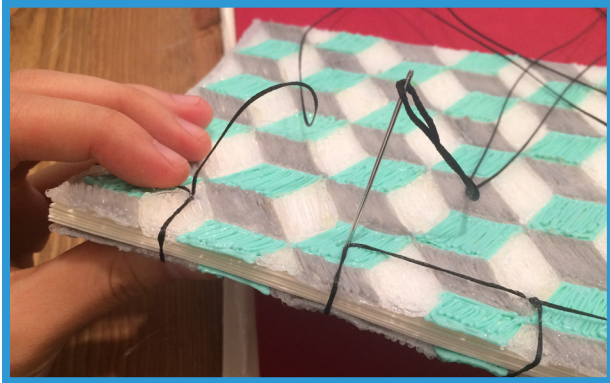

Step 17:

Sew from bottom up on the first hole twice, on the second wrapping the thread around the top.

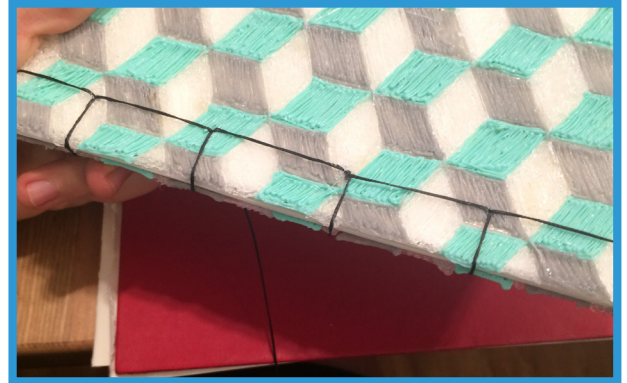

Step 18:

On the third time, wrap the thread around the spine.

Step 19:

Sew back down one hole completing the binding on one side.

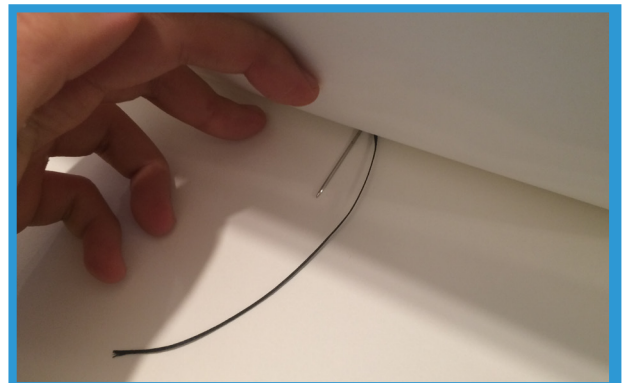

Step 20:

The front should look like this.

Step 21:

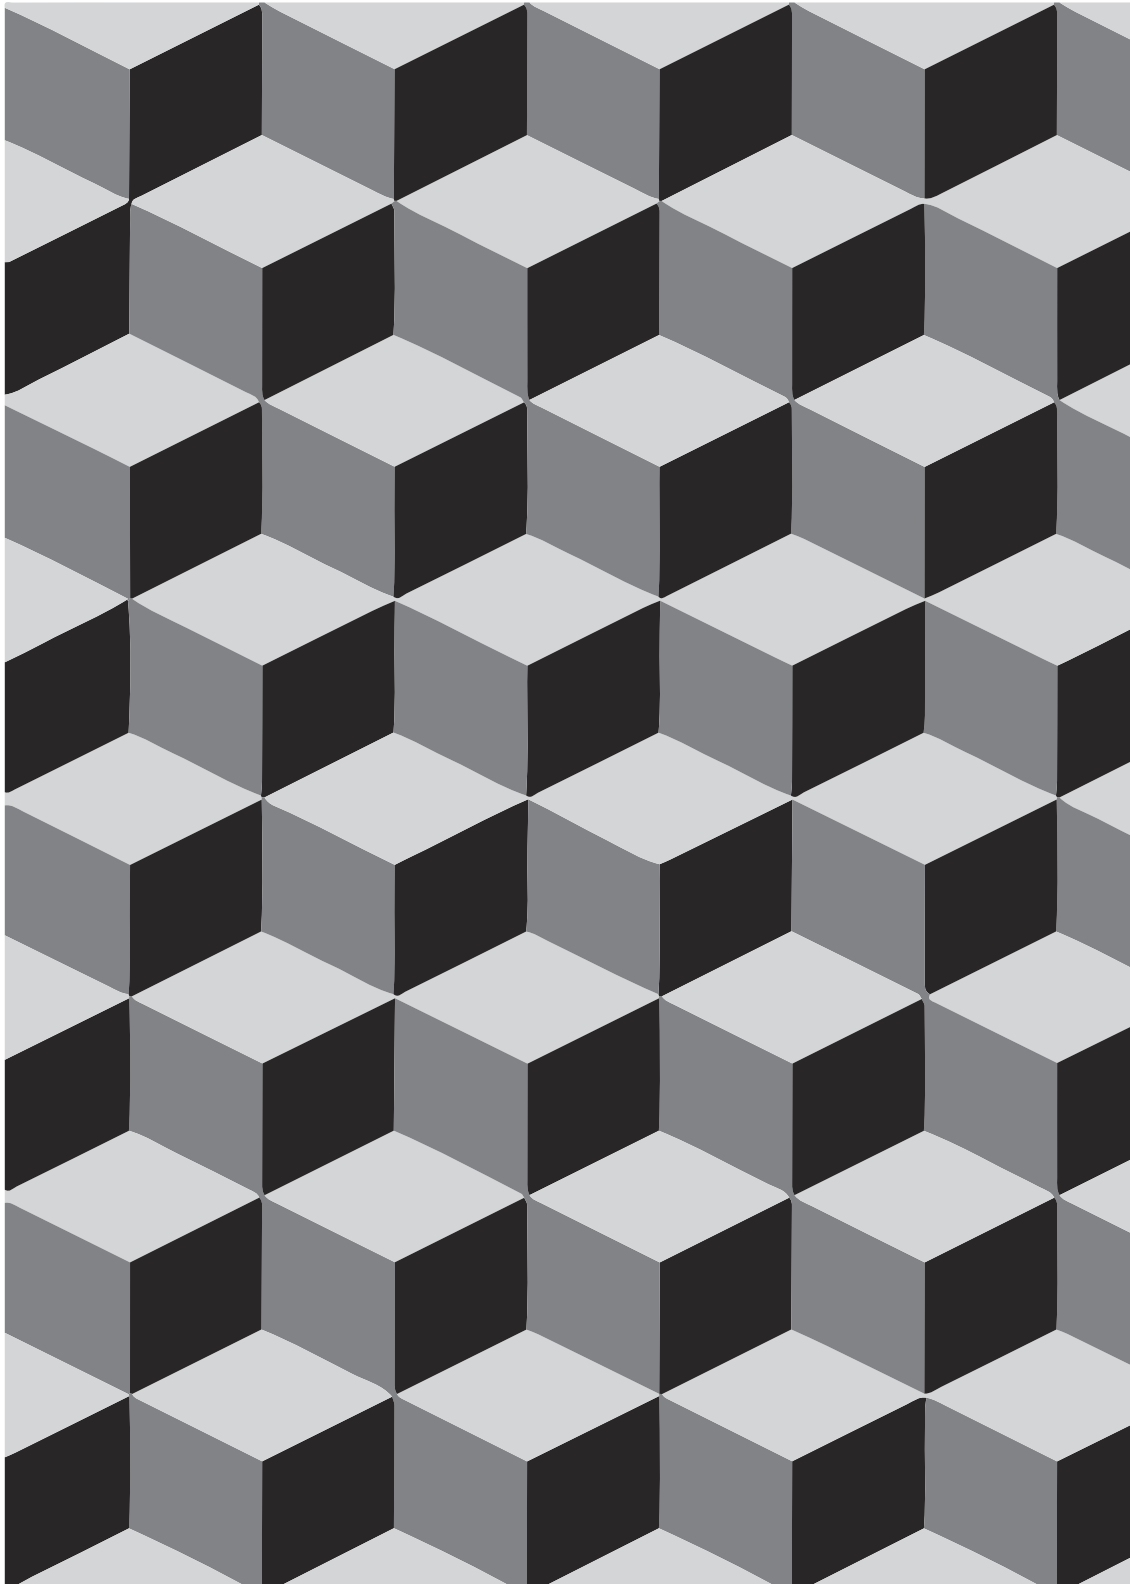

On the back, sew through the empty slot but push the needle through halfway in the middle of the pages meeting the starting point of the thread.

Step 22:

Pull the needle through and tie both ends together into a dead knot.

Stencil

Final:

Decorate according to taste, and there you have your own doodled shoe! Now go make another one!